GET HEADSTRONG :: JANE CARTER SOLUTIONS

January 27, 2011, 9:36 am

Filed under: Uncategorized | Tags: organic hair care, natural haircare, www.organicbeautyview.com, brandi d'amore, Jane Carter Solution, Homegrown Hair Care, Scalp Renew, Scalp Nourishing Serum, tea tree oil, hybrid safflower oil, dandruff, ylang ylang, Creamsicle

If you tend to be a little flaky when it comes to your natural hair care and your crowning glory suffers as a result, now's the time to get headstrong with Jane Carter Solution. Contrary to what you might think, strong, healthy hair starts at the scalp, not at the ends. When we concentrate on scalp health, we get a stronger, more resilient head of hair that can withstand damage, including the seasonal colder outdoor temperatures, the indoor controlled climates, and the usually more aggressive appliance use. Just as skin becomes drier during winter, we can also suffer from a drier scalp than normal at this time of year. Scalp treatments are great, but as this is where skin is thinnest (therefore highly efficient at absorbing products and medications), what we use here becomes very important.

Jane Carter Solution provides a brilliant way to care for your scalp, dry or otherwise. Dedicated to natural hair care for all ethnicities, they recognize how important it is to keep the scalp hydrated and protected and have developed essential oil based Scalp Renew and Scalp Nourishing Serum, that will have dry skin banished in a flash.

The Scalp Nourishing Serum in particular is a wonderful leave-in fortifier containing safflower oil, which has excellent healing properties, plus cedar and ylang ylang oils to help prevent bacterial and fungal growth (like that which can cause dandruff).

Then there's the issue of scalp build-up which can lead to poor hair health and even hair loss. Scalp Renew is a pre-shampoo treatment with tea tree, sweet orange and peppermint oils that is used on damp hair once a week to remove build-up and stimulate the scalp.

Even better than how well they work, though, is how well they smell. Scalp Renew will energize you with its peppermint scent and tingle, while the Orange Creamsicle® with-spice scent of the serum will make your hair smell delicious.
